REPORT OF SELECTMEN AND OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

To the Citizens of the Town of Walpole:

We beg to submit the following report for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1910:

The indebtedness of the Town is $135,540. Notes to the extent of $13,000 have been paid during the past year. We are pleased to report that all uncollected taxes, previous to this year's commitment, have now been collected. The year has been closed with unexpended balances of over $19,000.

OUTSIDE POOR DEPARTMENT.

We wish to call your attention to the following law which was passed during 1910:

ACTS OF 1910. CHAP. 412, SECTION 1.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO ANNUAL AND OTHER REPORTS OF CITY AND TOWN OFFICIALS.

"SECTION 1. No city or town, and no department or official of any city or town in this Commonwealth, shall publish in any annual or other report for general distribution to the public, or to the citizens of any city or town, the names of persons assisted in any way by the poor department of any city or town, or the names of any persons receiving aid under the provisions of Chapter Seventy-Nine of the Revised Laws and Acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto, residing in such city or town."

As applications for aid were received, they were duly investigated so that assistance would be given only in worthy and needy cases. Those persons assisted have been visited from time to time and found to be comfortable. The Canton Almshouse, where two of the town's poor are boarded, is well kept and the Walpole inmates receive excellent care.

We have been fortunate enough to close the account this year with an unexpended balance, but, as the expenses of this department are uncertain, we would recommend an increase in the appropriation.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Mr. Howard Patton was appointed Chief of Police of the Town and does patrol duty in Walpole Centre. Mr. William P. Crowley was continued as Special Officer at East Walpole, to do patrol duty each night.

TOWN HALL.

Public hall laws have so changed since the Hall was built that we have had difficulty in complying with the requirements due to the construction of the stage and exits, which are sufficient for ordinary public gatherings, but not for entertainments where a curtain is used. We recommend careful consideration of the Town Hall Committee's report.

STAGE CURTAINS.

Nothing has been done towards purchasing an asbestos curtain as we found that the appropriation was inadequate for this purpose.

EMERGENCY ROOM.

Up to the present, the appropriation for this purpose has not been used and we recommend that nothing be done in regard to this room until the hall is enlarged, which we think should be done at an early date.

ELM STREET WIDENING.

On being notified that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company were to reconstruct the Elm Street Bridge, we brought the matter before the town at a special Town Meeting, held October 28, 1910. Acting on instructions given by the Town, we have had plans made and have petitioned the County Commissioners that alterations be made in the bridge of the New England Railroad over Elm Street. We have been notified by the County Commissioners that they will give a hearing on the question on February 7, 1911, at 2.30 P. M., at which time all parties interested will be heard.

This is the most dangerous bridge in town, the view being obstructed both ways. The Engineer's plan makes a condition which gives a good view in both directions.

APPROACH TO WAILPOLE STATION.

A petition was received in regard to a spur track over which passengers boarding and leaving trains must pass. Previous to receiving this petition, the matter had been taken up with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company to see what could be done towards improving the condition at this point. We expect to have a report on this matter for the annual Town Meeting in March.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

To the Citizens of Walpole:

The Town Auditors have examined the books and cash balance of the Town Treasurer, and proved both to be correct.

Mr. Geo. M. Richardson, acting for Thomas S. Spurr, Public Accountant, has audited the Bookkeeper's accounts, and reports that the records and balances are correct.

Mr. Richardson highly commends the work of the Town Bookkeeper, which commendation the Auditors wish to endorse. The accounts are very neatly as well as correctly kept.

Less than one-half of the appropriation for Expert Accounting this year has been expended, and we recommend that the balance be used for the same purpose the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

REMARKS.

At the annual March meeting, the Town voted to appoint a Committee to study into the methods of valuation of all property, both real and personal, said Committee to hold public hearings and draw up definite recommendations, etc.

This Committee was duly appointed, being composed of representative citizens, who immediately organized and held various meetings in conjunction with the Board of Assessors.

In the judgment of the Taxation Committee and the Board of Assessors, it was deemed advisable to employ a machinery expert to assist the Assessors in appraising the machinery in the various manufacturing plants, and the Town in consequence voted an appropriation of $500.00 for this purpose. After careful investigation, the Board of Assessors were successful in securing the services of Mr. G. V. Rogers of Boston, a very thorough and practical machinery man.

The Taxation Committee has issued various reports on the subject of valuations, which reports have been sent to all citizens of the Town, wherein the problems of the Committee and the Board of Assessors were duly explained.

For a detailed report as to how these recommendations have actually worked out, we respectfully refer to the Valuation Book of Polls and Estates, which has just been published, wherein the re-valuation of the Town will be found in detail.

We believe all citizens of the Town appreciate the service rendered by the Taxation Committee, and the Board of Assessors desire, at this time, to publicly express their appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by said Committee, whose recommendations have been followed out to the best of our ability, and we feel perfectly satisfied that the work has produced substantial results, which are, and will continue to be, of great benefit to the Town.

In dealing with this great problem of Taxation, we have endeavored, to the best of our ability, to measure all by the same yard-stick and to deal justly with all in accordance with the law.

PATRICK H. MAHONEY,

Assessors of Walpole.

REPORT OF HIGHWAY SURVEYOR.

To the Citizens of Walpole:

The financial statement following this report shows where your money has been spent. For details of expenditures I refer you to the Bookkeeper's report.

STONE STREET.

For many years Stone Street, from School Street to Massachusetts Avenue, has been in a poor condition. Last spring I put on 780 loads of good gravel, and late in the fall repaired the drain near Ellis Street, and now think the street is in good shape.

LINCOLN ROAD.

I found it necessary to do a good deal of work on Lincoln Road, as a drain close to the railroad had fallen in with twenty feet of earth on top. This has been repaired at an expense of over $380.00.

WILLETT STREET.

I was obliged to widen Willett Street because, as it was, two teams could not safely pass. I was able to obtain good gravel on Bullard Street, which I carted for the work, and also used some for repairs on North Street.

EAST STREET.

This street is in need of repair from Main Street to the residence of W. P. Woodbury. It is narrow and high and requires a good gravel, which should be rolled down. Unfortunately, snow came early in December, or I would have done it last season.

GRAVEL.

I tried in several places to get gravel in the east end of the Town, but was obliged to come back to the Plimpton pit to get good material. Although it costs a little more, it is worth the money. There is plenty of gravel convenient to the Centre, and also the West and South, but we would have to cart it a long way to the North end.

BRIDGES.

In the summer it was reported to me that the bridge over the Neponset River, at F. W. Bird & Son's mill in South Walpole, was in a dangerous condition. On looking it over, I found it in bad shape, so I reinforced the abutments with concrete, as, in the end, I think it is the cheapest. The Bookkeeper's report will show the cost of the work.

For the most part, the bridges in Town are in poor shape, I would recommend rebuilding them all of concrete, as the increase in cost, if any, over the wooden structures would be offset by the saving for repairs.

SIDEWALKS.

The tar sidewalks in a great many places have gone to pieces. I believe better walks can be made of gravel or ashes, and if the Town would buy a steam roller, it would enable us to get better results after the material would be laid.

STREET OILING.

I got the Town watering cart from Mr. C. S. Bird in very good shape, but found it impossible to sprinkle the streets with water, as it would require two carts to do the work properly, so I applied oil, which seems to satisfy the people. I would recommend a more liberal appropriation this year for street oiling.

CONCLUSION.

In order to finish all the work, I found it would be necessary to have an additional appropriation, so asked to have some unexpended balances on especial appropriation transferred to the highway account. Owing to the fact that the Town Meeting for making transfers was held so late in the fall, and also to the fact that snow came early, I was handicapped in my plans, consequently, there is an unexpended balance.

Respectfully submitted,

P. A. GINLEY,

Highway Surveyor.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF FIRE ALARM.

WALPOLE, MASS., Dec. 31, 1910.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

The fire alarm system of the town is in good condition, and we have not had much trouble the past year.

There has been considerable wire changing in town, which has caused a lot of repairing, but the Edison Light and Telephone companies are very careful and obliging, therefore we have not had much trouble. Lightning has fused the wires several times.

The Centre whistle has been raised twenty-five feet on account of the new mill building of the Lewis Mfg. Co., which to some extent shut off the sound on the north side. This alteration is an improvement.

I do not make any recommendations of additions or improvements to present system until the town is ready to install a non-interfering box system, which was estimated upon last year by our former Superintendent, F. A. Hartshorn, Jr.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWIN T. COBB,
Superintendent Fire Alarm.

REPORT OF PARK COMMISSIONERS.

WALPOLE, MASS., Dec. 31, 1910.

To the Citizens of Walpole:

The Bookkeeper's report will show you in detail how your money has been expended by the Park Commissioners.

If you desire to have the Parks and School Grounds more attractive in appearance, a larger amount of money will have to be appropriated.

Walpole Centre Common: We had to spend considerable money to regrade a part of the Common. There is still another part where the fountain is located that should be regraded and then the Common in the Centre will be finished and attractive.

School Grounds: To make the school grounds in Walpole less unattractive, a considerable sum of money ought to be appropriated. The appropriation now is insufficient to allow us to spend much on school grounds.

Park Lands: As before suggested, the Town of Walpole ought to acquire some land while it can be purchased at a reasonable price for park purposes in the future.

High School Grounds: An insufficient amount of money was appropriated to properly grade and seed the land in front of the High School. It seemed to us wise to start correctly, and, therefore, we had the land laid out by an engineer and landscape gardener, and have followed, so far as the appropriation would allow, his suggestion. We urge all citizens to inspect the result, so far as done. In order to finish the work properly, considerable more money will have to be expended. The High School building has cost the Town considerably over Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), and we cannot afford to have so beautiful a building surrounded by such unsightly grounds.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS.

To the Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:—For the year 1910 have inspected: Cattle, 591; hogs, 519; sheep, 28; goats, 9.

There were eight cows quarantined and killed for tuberculosis.

Respectfully submitted,

A. F. BOYDEN,
Inspector of Animals.

REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Citizens of Walpole:

The following is respectfully submitted:

Several of those engaged in supplying milk for sale in this and other communities have not yet come to appreciate the importance of cleanly surroundings, and clean hands of the milker. The inspector of the State Board has lately been passing judgment on the condition of the local dairies, and in a report to the local board has mentioned several matters in connection with these dairies which will require adjustment. It would seem that one who keeps cows or has the handling of the milk supply should have sufficient pride in his own business and regard for the public welfare to serve customers with clean milk from clean stables. The board recommends the appointment of a local milk inspector at once.

The law against spitting or expectorating is being violated with considerable frequency in the community; as it is one of the most important of our health laws, its enforcement is necessary, and any citizen will confer a favor by reporting, with evidence, violations, habitual and otherwise, of this law. Spitting is not allowed on any sidewalk, or on the walls or floors of any public building, railway coach, excepting a smoking car, or on or between the tracks or platforms adjoining a railroad station.

It has seemed to the undersigned that a building inspector should be appointed who should issue permits and have an oversight of the construction of all buildings, also to pass upon the suitability of the building site. In many instances dwelling houses have been constructed upon land so wet and soggy that it is impossible to provide suitable drainage except at a cost which is practically prohibitive. The result of this constant dampness and defective drainage in a house built upon such a site and the constant menace to the health of the occupants may well be imagined. It should be made unlawful to construct houses without first obtaining a building permit, and it should be shown that the site can be properly drained before such a permit for a building to be used as a dwelling is forthcoming.

It should be known that any fetid, decaying animal or vegetable substances are not to be deposited on the public dumps, but should be disposed of by proper burial.

A considerably increased appropriation will have to be made for the ensuing year. This is made necessary by the large expense of maintaining cases of contagious diseases in hospitals, which cases are chargeable to the Town through the Health Department.

Contagious diseases were reported as follows:

Diphtheria,	13 cases
Measles,	157 cases
Mumps,	2 cases
Scarlet Fever,	2 cases
Tuberculosis,	4 cases
Typhoid Fever,	1 case
Varicella,	8 cases
Whooping Cough,	20 cases

The death rate for the Town was fourteen and a fraction per thousand, practically the same as last year.

Fourteen dwellings were disinfected.

Forty-three plumbing jobs were inspected.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN.

WALPOLE, MASS., Dec. 31, 1910.

Board of Selectmen, Walpole, Mass.:

Gentlemen:—I submit herewith report of work done this year in my capacity as Tree Warden:

Very thorough trimming has been done throughout the town, and we trust it will be possible next year to spend practically all of our appropriation in planting new trees, filling in gaps where old shade trees have died out, and making new plantings on some of the streets which have been recently accepted by the town.

For further particulars as to how the money has been spent you will please consult the Financial Statement.

Respectfully submitted,

PHILIP R. ALLEN

Tree Warden.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF MOTH SUPPRESSION.

WALPOLE, MASS., Dec. 31, 1910.

Board of Selectmen, Walpole, Mass.:

Gentlemen:—I submit herewith report of work done this year on the question of moths:

We were able, with the appropriation made, to clean up over half of the infested places. Mr. Kingsbury this year used the Tanglefoot on the trees in place of burlap and effected a saving of over One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) over the other method. Furthermore, we have found that this method is much more effective than the burlap, which requires a great deal of labor in handling.

Mr. Hatch, the State Agent, was on the work nearly every week throughout the year, and he reports that Mr. Kingsbury and his men have done very faithful and thorough work in cleaning up the infested areas.

Compared with the work done, we have had very few complaints from property owners. Some complaint, of course, is to be expected, for, if thorough work is to be done, our men have to go in and in some cases trim and cut trees that are so badly infested that the only safe way is to cut and burn them. All the work, however, has been done under the supervision of the State authorities, and we have tried, in every instance, to satisfy the property owners that we are only doing what must be done.

The State people tell us that they think that Walpole is doing as much as, or even more than, any other town in effectually stopping these pests.

For further particulars as to how the money has been spent you will please consult the Financial Statement.

Respectfully submitted,

PHILIP R. ALLEN,
Superintendent of Moth Suppression.

REPORT OF ENGINEERS OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

WALPOLE, MASS., December 31, 1910.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

The Engineers of the Fire Department respectfully submit the following report for the year ending December 31, 1910:

The Engineers have purchased 1000 feet of fire hose for use in the Centre Department. We have had 15 drills during the past year.

Owing to the extensive wood fires in the spring the appropriation granted at the March meeting was not sufficient to meet our expenses, and we were obliged to ask for an additional appropriation of $650.00 at the November meeting.

The equipment of the Department is all in good condition except the Hook and Ladder No. 1 at the Centre Fire Station. These ladders are small and unsafe, and, as they have been in use for something like thirty years, the Town can readily see that they are not in fit condition to give good service. We recommend the purchase of a new Hook and Ladder Truck for the Centre Company No. 1.

The Fire Department has responded to 59 alarms during the past year, as shown by the following table. These were for 14 building fires, 44 wood fires and 1 alarm for a lost child.

WALPOLE, MASS., March 4, 1910.

NORFOLK, SS.

By virtue of the within warrant, I have notified the inhabitants of the Town of Walpole, qualified to vote at elections and town affairs, to meet at the time and place and for the purposes mentioned, by posting true and attested copies of the within warrant, one in each of the Post Offices, and in not less than ten other public places in said Town, seven days at least before the time set for said meeting.

WILLIAM P. CROWLEY,
Constable of Walpole.

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

NORFOLK, SS.

Pursuant to the foregoing warrant, at a legal meeting of the inhabitants of Precinct 1 of the Town of Walpole, qualified to vote in elections and Town affairs, met in the Town Hall, in said Walpole, on Monday, the seventh day of March, A. D. 1910, and the inhabitants of Precinct 2, in said Town of Walpole, qualified to vote in elections and Town affairs, met in Bird Hall, in said Town, at six o'clock in the forenoon, to bring in their votes for the following officers, to wit:

Three Selectmen, who shall also be Overseers of the Poor; One Town Clerk; One Town Treasurer, One Collector of Taxes; One Tree Warden; One Highway Surveyor; Three Constables; Three Auditors; Three Fence Viewers, all for one year; One Assessor of Taxes for one year and one for three years; One Park Commissioner; One Water Commissioner; One member of the Board of Health; Two members of the School Committee; Two members of the Public Library Trustees, all for three years. Also, on the same ballot, to vote on the question: "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this Town?"

The meeting was called to order in Precinct 1, held in the Town Hall, by James B. Lewis, Warden of said Precinct, who acted as presiding officer. He was assisted by the following election officers: Frank Swan, Inspector; Frank N. Spear, Deputy Inspector; George H. Gough, Deputy Warden; William E. Hale, Clerk; George H. Ryan, Deputy Clerk; John P. O'Brion, Inspector; James J. Hennessey, Deputy Inspector.

Eight shelves or compartments were provided by the Town and guarded by the Town, as required by law. Cards of instruction and specimen ballots were posted outside the guard rail, as required by law.

The sets of ballots for Precinct 1, furnished by the Town Clerk, said to contain 800 official ballots and 50 special ballots for "School Committee only," was opened before the opening of the polls on said day, delivered to said Warden for Precinct 1, and his receipt taken therefor.

The ballot box, called the "Acme," furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, before the balloting began was opened in public meeting and found to be empty and the register of said box was set at zero and duly locked, as required by law, after which the polls were declared open.

Upon the delivery of the ballots to the voters by the election officers in charge, the check lists were used and the name of each voter receiving a ballot was announced and checked thereon. The ballot, as delivered to each voter, was by him marked in the voting compartment and deposited by the voter in the ballot box called the "Acme," furnished and certified by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the name of each voter depositing a ballot in said box was announced in a loud and distinct tone of voice and checked upon the voting list by the election officers in charge of said box and voting list.

The meeting was called to order in Precinct 2 by Thomas M. Crowley, Warden, who acted as presiding officer of said meeting. He was assisted by the following election officers: James E. Smith, Deputy Warden; Fred V. Bell, Clerk; George Lee, Deputy Clerk; Thomas H. Smith, Inspector; William Sline, Deputy Inspector; Fred Y. French, Deputy Inspector; Edmund Grover, Inspector.

Eight voting shelves or compartments were provided by the Town and guarded, as required by law. Cards of instruction were posted in each of the voting compartments, and cards of instruction and specimen ballots were posted outside the guard rail, as required by law.

The set of ballots for Precinct 2, furnished by the Town Clerk, said to contain 350 official ballots and 10 special ballots, for "School Committee only," was opened before the opening of the polls on said day, delivered to the Warden of said Precinct 2 and his receipt taken therefor.

The ballot box, called the "Perfection," furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, before the balloting began, was opened in public meeting, examined by the election officers and found to be empty, and the register of said box was set at zero and duly locked, as required by law, after which the polls were declared open.

The meeting was then conducted in like manner and form as in Precinct 1, and in accordance with the law.

The blank forms used by the election officers were furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The ballots were divided into blocks of five, and each block was canvassed as required by law, and the result of said canvass was reported to the Warden, who caused the total result of said canvass in each Precinct to be recorded upon the blank forms provided for that purpose, after which it was found the registers read as follows:

The register in Precinct 1 showed four hundred and seventy-seven (477) ballots cast. The names checked on the voting lists used in Precinct 1 were counted, and it was found that four hundred and seventy-seven (477) names had been checked thereon.

The register in Precinct 2 showed one hundred and seventy-two (172) ballots cast. The names checked upon the voting lists used in Precinct 2 were checked and counted, and it was found that one hundred and seventy-two (172) names were checked thereon.

The voting lists used in said election were furnished by the Board of Registrars.

Upon the completion of canvass of all the votes cast and the whole number duly sorted, counted and recorded, declaration thereof was duly made in open Town Meeting, as required by law, and was as follows:

STATE ELECTION.

November 8, 1910.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

NORFOLK, SS.

Pursuant to the foregoing warrant, at a legal meeting, the inhabitants of Precinct 1 of the Town of Walpole, qualified to vote at elections and Town affairs, met in the Town Hall, in said Walpole, on Tuesday, the eighth day of November, A. D. 1910, and the inhabitants of Precinct 2, in said Town of Walpole, qualified to vote at elections and Town affairs, met in Bird Hall in said Town, on said day at six o'clock in the forenoon to bring in their votes for the following officers, to wit:

Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, and Attorney-General of the Commonwealth; one representative of the Commonwealth in the Sixty-second Congress of the United States for the Twelfth District; one Councillor for the Second Councillor District; one Senator for the Second Norfolk Senatorial District; one Representative to the next General Court of the Tenth Norfolk Representative District, one County Commissioner for Norfolk County, two Associate Commissioners, one District Attorney, one Sheriff.

The meeting was called to order in Precinct 1, held in the Town Hall, by James B. Lewis, Warden of said Precinct, who acted as presiding officer. He was assisted by the following election officers:

Frank Swan, Inspector; Frank N. Spear, Deputy Inspector; George H. Gough, Deputy Warden; George H. Ryan, Clerk; Frank F. Kivlin, Deputy Clerk; John P. O'Brion, Inspector, and James J. Hennessey, Deputy Inspector.

Eight shelves or compartments were provided by the Town, and guarded, as required by law. Cards of instruction were posted in each of the eight marking shelves or compartments and cards of instruction and specimen ballots were posted outside the guard rail, as required by law.

The first set of ballots for Precinct 1, furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, said to contain seven hundred and fifty ballots was opened before the opening of the polls on said day and delivered to the Warden of Precinct 1 and his receipt taken therefor. The ballot box called the "Acme," furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, before the balloting began was opened in public meeting and examined by the election officers and found to be empty and the register of said box was set at zero, and duly locked, as required by law, after which the polls were declared open.

Upon the delivery of the ballots to the voters by the election officer in charge, the check lists were used, and the name of each voter receiving a ballot was announced and checked thereon. The ballot, as delivered to each voter, was by him marked in the voting compartment and deposited by the voter in the ballot box called the "Acme," furnished and certified by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the name of each voter depositing a ballot in said box was announced in a loud and distinct tone of voice and checked upon the voting list by the election officers in charge of said box and voting list.

The meeting was called to order in Precinct 2 by Thomas M. Crowley, Warden, who acted as presiding officer. He was assisted by the following election officers:

James E. Smith, Deputy Warden; Fred V. Bell, Clerk; Thomas H. Smith, Inspector; William Sline, Deputy Inspector; Fred Y. French, Deputy Inspector; Edmund Grover, Inspector, and Benj. S. Whittier, Deputy Clerk.

Voting shelves were provided as in Precinct 1, and cards of instruction and specimen ballots were posted as provided by law. The first set of ballots for Precinct 2, furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and said to contain three hundred ballots, was, before the opening of the polls on said day, delivered to the Warden of said Precinct and his receipt taken therefor.

The ballot box called "Perfection," furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, before the balloting began, was opened in public meeting and examined by the election officers and found to be empty and the register set at zero and duly locked, as required by law, after which the polls were declared open.

The blank forms used by the election officers were furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the voting lists used in said election were furnished by the Registrars of Voters.

The ballots were divided into blocks and each block was canvassed, as required by law, and the result of said canvas was reported to the Warden, who caused the total result of said canvas in each Precinct to be recorded upon the blank forms provided for that purpose, after which it was found the registers read as follows:

The register in Precinct 1 showed four hundred and ninety-eight (498) ballots cast. The names checked on the voting lists used in Precinct 1 were counted, and it was found that four hundred and ninety-eight (498) names had been checked thereon.

The register in Precinct 2 showed one hundred and seventy-two (172) ballots cast. The names checked on the voting lists used in Precinct 2 were counted, and it was found that one hundred and seventy-two (172) names were checked thereon.

Upon the completion of canvass of all the votes cast and the whole number duly sorted, counted and recorded, declaration thereof was duly made in open town meeting, as required by law, and was as follows:

THIRTY-FIFTH
ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Trustees of the Public Library

OF THE

Town of Walpole

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING, DECEMBER 31, 1910

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Following is the report of the Board of Trustees, also report of Librarian.

During the past year the Library has lost a faithful Trustee, in the death of Mr. Myron H. Piper. The board felt his loss deeply, and wish to express their admiration for his personality and ability. At a joint meeting of the Selectmen and Trustees, held in the Selectmen's room, April 29, 1910, Mr. L. F. Fales was chosen to fill the vacancy.

The Trustees wish to call attention to the condition of the drainage at the Library. This matter has been up for consideration before the town, and a committee was appointed, which reported progress. Further time was given, and they were requested to report next March. The Trustees feel that this matter should be attended to at once, as failure to do this will result in permanent injury to the building. A careful survey has been made by an engineer, and it seems to the Trustees that the best plan is to carry the water from the Library, by drain, down School Street to the corner of Stone and School Streets, connecting there with a drain, which would empty this water into the river. The cost of doing this is estimated by the engineer not to exceed $1,050.00, with perhaps a possible saving, depending on the cost of labor and material at the time that the work is done; therefore, the Trustees strongly recommend that the sum of $1,050.00 be appropriated for this purpose.

Donations have been appreciated and are hereby acknowledged. In addition may be mentioned a bequest of $500.00, which is explained by the following extract from the will of the late Misses Gould:

"I give and bequeath to the Town of Walpole the further sum of $500.00 as a perpetual fund, the income of which shall be expended by the Trustees of the Walpole Library, for the benefit of said Library."

The Trustees wish to express their gratitude to the Librarian and her assistants for their very efficient service, and for the deep interest which they have taken in the welfare of the Library during the past year.

During the past month the Trustees have been giving attention to the necessity of developing the work in the children's department; and with this object in view we have appointed as assistant librarian, Miss Daisie Miller, a graduate of the Library School of Simmons College.

The Trustees take this opportunity to thank Mr. E. S. Spear and Fahrenholt Bros. for their kindness in transporting books to South Walpole and East Walpole, free of any charge to the Library.

The Trustees ask for an appropriation of $2,800.00 for the maintenance of the Library during the coming year.

L. F. FALES, ,

Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

To the Trustees of the Walpole Public Library:

I herewith submit my report for the year ending December 31, 1910. During the year the number of books issued for home use shows a decrease from that of last year. A comparison with the circulation in other libraries reveals the fact that this decrease is quite general. The principal reasons suggested to account for it are industrial prosperity, which gives the adults of the community less leisure for reading, and the increased popularity of moving-picture shows, which attract the young in large numbers. The figures indicating the circulation, however, do not tell the whole story. Many books are taken to the schools by the teachers and there issued to pupils, no record being kept of the number of readers. Moreover, books are frequently loaned by those to whom they are charged. The tendency to this special abuse of privilege increases in inverse ratio to the supply of new books, and in an effort to remedy it, it has seemed best to place the seven-day limit on the new fiction in the children's department, as is already done in the general Library.

The work of re-cataloguing the Library has been finished, and we now have a complete catalogue in the case near the entrance to the reading room. The case near the children's room will be used for a catalogue of the children's books, and the children will be taught to use it.

The registration has been revised, showing a total of 1164 actual borrowers. There were 221 new names entered during the year.

The supplementary pay collection of fiction, introduced near the end of the year 1909, was in use about one year. Twenty-five books were thus entered, and as the demand for any book fell off, it was sold or placed on the shelves for free circulation. The receipts were $3.17 more than the cost of the books. Although many readers expressed regret at the loss of a service that afforded an increased opportunity of securing a fresh, new book, its popularity, as measured by the length of time it took to pay for the books, hardly seemed to justify its continuance.

The occasional demand for books in foreign languages has lead to the purchase of a few Greek and Latin texts, a collection of German poems, and a small number of modern novels in French and Italian.

Notices of new books and other announcements are placed on the bulletin boards in the reading rooms for the benefit of the public. Every Friday circulars are received from the Museum of Fine Arts announcing the subjects of addresses to be given the following Sunday, with the names of the speakers.

I wish to express my appreciation of the support and co-operation of the Trustees, and the hope that under the conditions inaugurated for the coming year the work of the Library will be more effectively conducted than ever before.

Respectfully,

IDA J. PHELPS,

Librarian.

SIXTEENTH

OF THE

Water Commissioners

OF

WALPOLE, MASSACHUSETTS

FOR THE

Year Ending, December 31, 1910

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

The Walpole Water Commissioners herewith submit their sixteenth annual report, it being for the year ending December 31, 1910.

As in former years, the report contains a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures, together with statistics concerning the plant.

In the death of Mr. Myron H. Piper, the department suffered a heavy loss. Mr. Piper, who had served as a member of the Water Board for three years, had just been re-elected when he passed away. He was a faithful officer and a genial companion, always ready to do his share of the work and assume his share of the responsibility. It is not only the water department who has lost a faithful official but the whole Town.

The condition of the plant is good, no serious breaks or leaks having occurred during the year.

The principal extensions made to the distributing system during the year were 6680 feet of 6-inch pipe, laid in Elm Street, and 1500 feet laid in Summer Street, both extensions being subject to the usual six per cent. guarantee.

Fifty-six service pipes have been laid during the past season, which is the largest year's work in this line since 1896. A total of over 13,000 feet of all sizes of pipe has been laid during the year.

The Elm and Summer Street extensions were laid under contract, by Mr. John E. Palmer of Boston.

In October we made a house-to-house inspection, in order to check up our books, to find out the purposes for which water was used, the condition of fixtures, etc. Our inspector was also directed to make simple repairs (such as putting washers on faucets) and especially to make careful inspection of bathroom fixtures, and advise takers if repairs were needed. This inspection shows that, as a general rule, fixtures are kept in good order and that the small repairs are made, and the advice given by our inspector was appreciated by the majority of takers.

On the opposite page is a copy of the inspector's card used and a summary of what was found:

The government weather reports show that the year 1910 has been a record breaker in lack of rainfall. The normal rainfall is about 43 inches for the year, but this year it has been less than 30 inches. This lack of rain, while it has not seriously affected our supply, shows us what we may expect if the next ten years should be successive years of drouth, as our water level is now nearly 50 inches below normal. We have pumped nearly 40,000,000 gallons more than last year, a total of 182,414,377 gallons for the year.

The conditions of the water supply of a large percentage of the cities and towns of the State, both as regards quality and quantity, leads us to think that we do not half appreciate our plant and the purity of the supply must be guarded to the utmost.

Late in the fall, at the request of the Norwood Water Commissioners, we made connection with the Town of Norwood water mains in Washington Street. This was done at a time when it looked as if the Norwood supply might not be sufficient for their needs, but up to the present time no water has been called for; nevertheless, such a connection may be of mutual advantage to both towns.

ORGANIZATION.

J. EDWARD PLIMPTON, Chairman
EDWARD L. SHEPARD, Secretary
FREDERIC W. KINGMAN, Supt. of Schools
FREDERICK H. FULLER, M. D., School Physician

Office: Town Hall. Regular meetings, second Monday evening of each month.

Superintendent's Office Hours: Monday and Wednesday evenings, 6.30 to 7.30.

CALENDAR, 1911.

Winter term begins January 2, 1911, continues 12 weeks.

Spring term begins April 3, 1911, continues 12 weeks.

Fall term begins September 6, 1911, continues 16 weeks.

Winter term begins January 1, 1912, continues 12 weeks.

REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the Citizens of Walpole:

The School Committee herewith begs leave to submit its annual report for the year 1910.

The Board organized with the choice of J. Edward Plimpton as Chairman and E. L. Shepard, Secretary.

Mr. H. S. Gruver served out his term as Superintendent July 1st at which time Mr. F. W. Kingman returned to take up the work. The School Board deemed it best to employ him on full time, therefore he was engaged as Superintendent, as before, at a salary of $1600 per year, and also as an assistant teacher in the High School on part time at a salary of $500 per year, thus saving an extra teacher at the High School.

TEACHERS.

Finding it difficult to secure good and efficient teachers and also to retain them at our present maximum salary for grade teachers, the Committee recommends that the maximum wages be raised from $550 to $600 per year.

FINANCES.

You will see by the appended financial statement that we have a balance far in excess of former years. This is due to economy along all lines.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND.

Early in the year Mr. Charles S. Bird gave the town one thousand dollars to help worthy high school graduates to obtain a higher education; three young men have availed themselves of this most generous offer, and are now attending college.

For an account of the educational work of the schools we respectfully call your attention to the report of the Superintendent of Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee:

I submit herewith my fifth annual report, together with such statistics, and other information, as seem appropriate at this time.

In reviewing the report of the Acting Superintendent, who was in charge of the schools during my nine months' leave of absence, I note that the following subjects were brought to your attention: wages of teachers, co-operation between school and homes, evening school, industrial education, playground extension and one session in the lower grades. All of these matters are of vital importance. Any one of them might reasonably claim for its adequate treatment many times the space that can be devoted to a school report. In my report for 1908, the leading place was given to a discussion of teaching as a profession and the need of increased compensation. In the present recital of facts and recommendations, I desire only to say concerning teachers' salaries that after two years' agitation and preparation of the public mind, the writer feels that an opportunity should be given the voters at the coming town meeting to pass upon the question. The Town will be asked by the School Board to grant a sufficient amount to raise the maximum wages of grade teachers $50 per annum. Favorable action is recommended, first, in the interest of the children, who need the best teaching that we can afford to pay for, and, secondly, as an act of simple justice to the teachers, several of whom have taught for years for wages that represent far less than their true worth.

Physical Education.

The chief aim of education is ethical. It is becoming increasingly clear, however, that moral development takes in vastly more than formal didactic text book instruction of the individual pupil. There is not a situation in life that may not be considered as moral in some of its aspects. The moral life is hindered or helped by all the forces that act upon the human being in his passage from the cradle to eternity. The beginning of moral nurture is in the material and physical. Neglect of the laws of our physical well-being, indifference to conditions of sanitation, ventilation and cleanliness, overcrowding in tenement and school, cramping little children for too long a time in an artificial environment, all these things and others of a similar character, militate against a vigorous and robust physique, and tend to make the moral life less easy of attainment. The moral person must not only be good, he must also be good for something. In the olden time, the moral ideal was achieved by withdrawing from the world. A state of inactivity and passivity was the condition of its acquisition. Today, duty, which is the heart of morality calls to an active participation in the affairs of the world. When once we grasp the full import of the close connection between physical perfection and the moral order of the universe, we shall demand that the schools shall modify their environment in such a way as to give a fair share of time to matters that are more fundamental for successful living than even the three R's, which all agree cannot be supplanted, come what may in the nature of changes and readjustment. Believing that physical education is basal, the foundation on which the educational structure of a well-rounded school system must rest, it is my desire to focus your attention on things that relate to this much neglected side of the child's training. In the first place, physical education is many sided. Consider a bare statement of the subject matter, viz.:

1. Age of admission
2. Number and length of sessions
3. Play and playgrounds—athletics
4. Organized direction of physical activities
5. Physical Director
6. Medical inspection, Eye and Ear tests
 - School physicians and school nurses
 - School oculists and school dentists

7. Location of buildings
8. Sanitation and ventilation
9. Sex and sexual hygiene
10. Differentiation of studies for boys and girls
11. Backward children, abnormal, feeble-minded, etc.
12. Number of children per room
13. Home study

The above enumeration does not exhaust the list of related topics, but it gives some notion of the magnitude of the problem and the need of looking things squarely in the face if we would deal justly by those who can not do for themselves and who will be held accountable for any shortcomings they may exhibit when they reach mature years.

An enthusiast for physical education would be tempted to say "yes, these things are all good, let us move at once for amelioration in all particulars." The practical man knows that no community is ready to do all, and that one or two things at a time must be the rate of advance.

In Walpole we already have medical inspection of an elementary kind, good as far as it goes, but not sufficiently thorough. It should be supplemented by the employment of a school nurse, who shall give a larger amount of time to the schools, under the direction of the school committee and the school physician. The present plan of employing the Visiting Nurse at such times as she can spare from her main duties in the homes of the town, has been spasmodically helpful. We should be grateful for the good that has been accomplished, but no attempt should be made to gloss over the fact that there have been many critical times when no help of the kind that a school nurse could give was available.

I am led to believe from an interview which I had recently with the Norwood Superintendent of Schools that a satisfactory plan can be arranged for joint employment of a school nurse by Norwood and Walpole.

The law relating to medical inspection requires that every child in the public schools shall be separately and carefully tested and examined at least once in every school year, to ascertain whether he is suffering from any defect or disability tending to prevent his receiving the full benefit of his school work, or requiring a modification of the school work in order to prevent injury to the child or to secure the best educational results.

We have complied with this law in letter and spirit, but I think experience has shown the desirability of a change in the method of procedure. In my judgment, all examinations should be made during the first month or six weeks of the new school year, so that the proper adjustment of defective pupils to their school work could be made early in the year. If examinations drag along throughout the year, a great deal of hardship may be inflicted on pupils whose cases need prompt attention.

There are now about 1000 pupils in the schools, distributed over four villages. A physician, whose time is largely taken by regular practice, cannot examine separately and carefully early in the fall term so many pupils. Last year the pupils in the high school were not examined until the close of the spring term.

Our school physician is not at fault in this matter. He has small compensation for his services, and he cannot afford to throw aside regular practice for school inspection. The remedy would seem to lie in dividing the work of inspection among three physicians. The present incumbent could retain the Stone School, a second physician should be appointed for the Bird School, and a third for the High, Fisher and Boyden Schools. The greatest value of medical inspection is lost if the service needed is not promptly rendered.

In September, 1909, an experiment was tried with one session in the first and second grades of the Stone School. This step was taken at my suggestion. Two reasons prompted me to give the plan a trial. It seemed to be in the interest of economy (such had been the experience in other towns), and it was in consonance with the opinions of the best medical authority. Few physicians will claim that children five and six years of age should attend school more than half a day. When the experiment was launched, it was my hope that at least a full year's trial might be granted. A fair opportunity to judge of the worth of the scheme could hardly be given in less time. At the opening of the spring term, two sessions were resumed. Not having been in town at the time, I am not in a position to judge fairly what peculiar circumstances arose to justify discontinuing the experiment, which, according to accounts rendered to me verbally by the teachers from time to time through the fall and winter term, appeared to be working well on the whole. Such information as I could gather on occasional visits seemed to suggest modifying the plan rather than abandoning it altogether. It seems to me imperative that we should act in this matter in the interest of the child's physical welfare, and, if money can be saved in so doing, the opportunity should be improved. The town's present resources and growing school population require the most economical utilization of our school facilities. The school population is fast becoming too large to be accommodated properly in existing buildings. An advanced public opinion would demand enlargement of facilities in the form of a new building or substantial additions to the present buildings. It is not to be doubted that some taxpayers feel that a mistake was made when the old high school building was sold. It has been said many times in my presence that the upper grades of the Stone School could be transferred to the old high school. In this way the town could postpone building new houses or additions. This view does not take account of present-day requirements in education. The old high school building presents conditions that war against a growing child's physical well-being. Without large expense the building could not be made suitable in regard to lighting, ventilation and sanitation. Because of poor light alone, the committee would be justified in abandoning its use. Much more is required in a modern school than mere seating capacity. It will never be known how many defective eyes have been produced in school through gross defects in construction. It is only recently that we have begun to regard such defects as important. At times we are tempted to repeat the refrain of an old song, "It was good enough for father, it was good enough for mother and it is good enough for me." But most of us do really want something better for our children than what we had for ourselves.

In providing facilities for the growing overflow at the Stone School, I trust that we shall take a long look ahead and make ample provisions for conserving the health and promoting the physical growth of the children. The town cannot build next year, perhaps not the year after next, but it can take steps now for building adequately when it does build. Hand-to-mouth methods are out of date. Piecemeal additions have been found to be expensive. Good planning estimates from data at hand what the probable needs will be. When the new high school building was erected, allowance was made for a ten years' growth of the town at the normal rate of increase. A similar method should be followed in the case of the Stone School. All the conditions should be studied by a competent committee, some of whom should be members of the School Board.

During the year, the town purchased a spacious lot of land at South Walpole, adjacent to the school property, for use as a playground. It now remains to utilize this acquisition in the most profitable way. As yet practically all our school play is unorganized. A change should be made in the direction of supervision by the teacher. This question is under consideration and will not be dismissed until something satisfactory is evolved.

In our other elementary schools, the need of more playroom is urgent, but progress in acquiring suitable land has been suspended for a time. Several propositions have been considered at East Walpole. The final outcome should be satisfactory. If no other way can be found, it is probable that the right of eminent domain will be invoked for getting land at the North and Centre.

At the High School, where we have a large field for athletic purposes, more activity than usual has been shown, owing to the fact that the principal has had special training for leadership in this department of school life. Yet even now but few of the entire number take part in physical exercises. Football, baseball, basket ball, ice hockey are all good in their way, and to a limited extent. Physical culture includes more than playing games. It should reach every pupil, take note of defects and provide measures of a remedial and corrective nature. Strength and grace should be sought after for each and all. A winning football or baseball team may shed glory on the school for a very brief season. A fine physique and abounding health will be entitled to praise long after athletic glories are only a memory. We need now the larger aim and the broader view, a view so comprehensive that from the beginning to the end of life in school, physical growth and development shall not be ignored at any stage. Physical culture is most effectively promoted by employing a director who has been thoroughly prepared and who can give his whole time to such work. Walpole could probably combine with some other town or towns in the employment of a Supervisor of Physical Training, as has sometimes been done in the case of drawing, and is now done with music instruction. It is an auspicious time to enter upon this enrichment of the course of study, since public interest in the playground movement, medical inspection and allied subjects is spreading rapidly all about us. Moreover, by a fortunate turn of events, all of our men principals are specially qualified to co-operate in the movement. Two have had experience in directing city playgrounds, and the third is a good athlete and thoroughly interested. I think, too, that the teachers will do all that lies in their power to make this extension of educational privileges a success.

Publicity and Parent-Teacher Associations.

One reason for the lack of moral stamina in men and women of the present generation is that moral preachments and moral conduct have not been combined in the right proportions, either in school or society, and for this state of affairs, society is equally responsible with the schools. School administrative officers are to blame to the extent that they do not assume leadership in remedying the delinquencies that appear in the schools and in pointing out what appear to be the failures of society. Viewed in the right light, there should be no partition wall between the schools and the other uplifting agencies of the community. The fact is that school and home are not in sufficiently close touch with each other. Through publicity a different state of affairs can be brought about. One way of securing publicity is to establish Parent-Teacher Associations and make use of the school buildings as social centres. Every village in this town ought to have a live association of people interested in the schools and meetings for public discussion should be held frequently. A sentiment for better things would be aroused that would be fruitful in introducing needed changes in the schools.

Mr. William H. Allen, Director of the New York Bureau of Municipal Research, in delivering the principal address to the Illinois State Teachers' Association a few days ago, laid his axe to the root of the tree in these words:

"No system of moral instruction in the schools can ever offset the anti-moral conduct of those schools which neglect the health of school children and of school teachers, waste teachers' time, child's opportunity and tax-payer's money or set a bad example to other public agencies by claiming immunity for mistakes and exemptions from criticism. The greatest social settlement work ever conceived is that of the school where principals and teachers are in sympathetic touch with children and their parents. It is a topsy-turvy world where, as in most American cities, ten or fifty private citizens are interested in the criminal, the feeble-minded, the indigent and the aged infirm for every private citizen intelligently interested in the public schools. Proper proportions will never be restored until school men and school women assume the responsibility which is theirs for leading their communities—furnishing most of the evidence, a great part of the inspiration, and the working centres—in movements classified as social service uplift and civic betterment.

"It is an anomalous and abnormal situation where Y. M. C. A.'s can raise money from religious philanthropists on the plea that they have to do educational work because the public schools break down. It is a defective ideal of both school work and social work where an outside visiting teacher takes the place of an inside teacher who visits her children at home and her children's parents. We have made a fair trial of that ideal school management which distrusted the general public and believed the safest public was that which knew least and asked fewest questions. That ideal has failed. We must now seek after the ideal outlined by Commissioner Snedden of Massachusetts, and so practically avowed by Chicago's woman superintendent, where the safest public is seen to be the best informed public, and where every public school gains the citizen support which it seeks and desires."

In General.

The number of changes in the most important positions has been exceptionally large, perhaps unprecedented. Both supervisors terminated their services at the close of the school year. The teacher of sewing in the Bird School is now in Europe on leave of absence. At the opening of the school year, every school was in charge of a principal other than the one who was with us a year ago.

For the first time manual training has been placed in the hands of the drawing supervisor in the hope that the two subjects may be more closely related and hence more fruitful of results. Manual training has been introduced into the high school for the first time. It has been made optional to the boys of the entering class. For the first time also sewing has been offered to high school pupils. An advanced class in cooking has been added at the high school for the benefit of those young women who wished to continue the work begun last year. The beginner's class in cooking has also been continued this year.

Important modifications and extensions have been made in the High School Course of Study. The aim in this revision has been to grant as much liberty of choice as limited conditions will permit, and to secure greater intensiveness and concentration. A good course of study should allow for dispersion and concentration. The pupil should learn something about many things and much concerning a few things. The course as amended finds a place in this report together with sample programs. Detailed information will be given in a personal interview to pupils and parents on any points needing explanation.

During the year the college certifying privilege was withdrawn from the high school because of the failure of the school to send the requisite number to college during the year preceding. It is stipulated by the colleges as a condition of retaining the certificate privilege that there shall be at any time three graduates of the school in college and three members of the school who are preparing for college. The school did not meet this requirement last year. It is my intention to make application for restoration to the list of schools having the certificating privilege, as there are at present a comparatively large number of pupils who are following preparatory courses, and, further, since the privilege was withdrawn, three pupils have entered college, one at Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst and two at Boston College. These graduates are taking advantage of the financial assistance accruing from the scholarship fund established by Mr. Charles S. Bird. The creator of this scholarship desires especially to stimulate an interest in higher technical and industrial education. In awarding scholarships from this fund, the preference is to be given to students who are seeking this kind of training. These scholarships are to be awarded on the basis of pecuniary need, scholarship, integrity and good all-round development, physical, mental and moral. It is the purpose of the donor to grant $1000 yearly if experience shall prove that the money is well and wisely used. The young men and women of Walpole ought to realize that here is a splendid opportunity to remove one obstacle in the way of gaining higher education.

Conclusion.

In concluding this report, I desire to call the attention of all readers to the statistical portions of this review of the year's work, especially to the tables relating to grade, age and sex distribution of the entire membership, and to repetition in the grades. The reports of supervisors and school physician are important and should not be overlooked.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC W. KINGMAN,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING AND MANUAL TRAINING.

Mr. F. W. Kingman, Superintendent of Schools :

I present the following report on the work in drawing and manual training of the Walpole schools.

At the start I desire to express my gratitude to the corps of teachers who have so willingly carried out the work planned for the course in drawing. Such mutual co-operation between teacher and supervisor is sure of winning good work from the children.

Thus far the work in drawing compares favorably with work accomplished in other school systems. I have noticed a few cases of work done by some of the boys and girls that is exceptionally good—far ahead of the average mark. It is not over-taxing the imagination to realize that such boys and girls (capable of excellent work) are to become our future illustrators, lithographers, painters, sculptors and artisans of other kinds of work where a high standard of technical workmanship is required.

Each year educators are emphasizing more and more the importance of drawing and the manual arts in connection with the purpose of education. Let us consider the purpose of education and see how large a share drawing and the manual arts have toward completing that purpose. Education should be of such character as to make the child willing to work; able to see and to express himself. Education aids the child to form habits of thinking and working; helps him to help himself; it lays a foundation which will lead to more difficult work later and it gives the child manual skill which will be useful to him in no matter what line of work he may choose to follow in later life. Education develops the judgment, the appreciation and the reasoning power of the child. There are there direct ways or channels by which the aims in education are brought about—namely: experiences in talking things, in seeing things and in thinking or reproducing things.

We will now consider what relation art education in the public schools bears to each step of the purpose of education. How does drawing help make the child willing to work; able to see and to express himself? The children are told about some object that is closely connected with their play; they immediately become interested and are given pencil or crayon that they may mark on paper to express ideas concerning the object studied. At first these drawings are but so many crude shapes, but to the child they mean much, he has accomplished something and thereby has gained confidence and a love to "make things." The child creates a happy environment for himself. Little by little the child's attention is called to certain facts and he is taught to use his eyes and observe things; previously these things did not exist for him at all. With added power to use his own eyes the child becomes more efficient in doing for himself, and takes pride in the accomplishment. A new understanding of a thing comes to the child who tries to draw it. How does drawing aid the child to form habits of thinking and of working and in helping the child to help himself? We have seen how the child becomes interested and is taught to see and to express himself joyfully. In a short time the child will unconsciously work and think in order to express himself and show the teacher what he can do. The act of drawing requires and develops an increased faculty of comprehension, and clearer mental percepts which form the basis of thinking.

Prof. Alfred V. Churchill of the Teachers' College, New York City, states that "industrial drawing lies at the foundation of manufacture. The average workman must understand drawing, because expression through drawing or modeling must precede execution in nearly every branch of industry. The foundations of such education must be laid in the schools."

In the wood-working department of the grammar grades the work has been of such character as to give the boys varied opportunities in the use of tools. Most of the boys seem to like this part of the school work and take a keen interest to do their best. A solution of the problem of industrial efficiency in boys is that sloyd be given at least four hours each week in the three upper grammar grades—at present only one hour per week is devoted to the cause. I strongly advise that the advantages in wood-working given the boys of the Stone and Bird Schools be also shared with the boys of the Fisher and the Boyden Schools. I sincerely hope the time is not far off when we can discard the benches now in use and substitute individual benches—the ideal way under which manual training should be taught; under such conditions, the boy occupying a bench is made directly responsible for the tools belonging to that bench; and he is made to feel the responsibility and pride in keeping the bench in an orderly manner. And, above all, with individual benches, much time can be saved by not having to pass out and collect tools that now has to be done under the existing conditions.

In the high-school the drawing is classed under two heads or courses. Under freehand drawing comes the interpretation of nature as regards color, form and values and accurate delineation. There has been some excellent work done by some of the students taking freehand drawing. The constructive course is entirely taken by young men, and this course is the place where the necessary relationship between drawing and the manual training is most keenly observed. Some of the young men of this class take manual training and have worked out different problems which they intend to construct in wood. These problems have been worked out as the need arose. For example—we observed that the beautiful statue of the Winged Victory appeared out of place and incomplete without a pedestal—this need led to the planning of several well-designed pedestals. One day the janitor informed us that his step-ladder was not high enough for some kinds of work that needed his attention—from this clue some of the boys made working drawings of a step-ladder such as the janitor wanted. Other original problems have been worked out by the boys such as coat racks, tables, plant stands, etc. Now it is our ambition to see these same problems worked out in wood.

Metal work has its own peculiar educational value, and it is being introduced in many high schools. In metal, as in wood, there is splendid opportunity of correlation with the drawing. The designs for bowls, buckles, fobs and other useful articles can be found and drawn in the drawing class and executed in the laboratory. I should like very much to see a course in arts and crafts started in the high school.

Under existing conditions all the Walpole schools have white walls in contrast to the black-board—I feel that this contrast is too great; daily contact of the children with such violation of harmony is not only bad for their æsthetic temperament, but is also liable to do injury to their visual organs.

Respectfully submitted,

ALVIN DYER THAYER,
Supervisor of Drawing and Manual Training.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

To the Superintendent of Schools:

When I took charge of the music in the schools in Walpole last September, I found the work in most instances in good condition. By the end of the school year I hope to be able to say that each grade is doing the work outlined in the Course of Study. The Course of Study designates certain definite principles to be taught in each grade.

Much importance is laid upon the individual work, for the true test is what each pupil can do. By carrying out this individual work in a systematic manner we are striving to form habits of accuracy, independence, concentration, mental alertness and self-control. We are also constantly trying to improve the tone quality: quality of tone, not the amount of tone being the ideal before us.

If the Supervisor could have two days each week instead of one day and a half, as at present, I think much more could be accomplished. With but a day and a half the lessons must of necessity be very short, only fifteen or twenty minutes each; whereas the upper grades should have at least twenty-five minutes each.

A Supervisor cannot do all the work alone. There must be co-operation on the part of the grade teachers, for to them falls the drill work every day. Owing to their faithful daily work the music is constantly improving.

Following is the course of study for the Weaver System, Institute of Music Pedagogy, Northampton, Mass.:

GRADE I.

Tune.	Time.
Major scale	1st time motion
Syllables and numbers
Memorize first five scale tones
Staff reading, first five scale tones.
Pitch, names of lines and spaces

GRADE II.

Tune.	Time.
Complete scale	2nd time motion
Staff reading of all scale tones

GRADE III.

Ability to read difficult melody	3rd time motion
Find "do" from key signature

GRADE IV.

Names of keys	Review
First step in chromatics
Two-part singing

GRADE V.

Second step in chromatics	Arithmetic of music
Use of 5 chromatic characters in singing	Theory of common time

GRADE VI.

Position of sharps and flats in signature	4th and 5th time motions
Use of all chromatic characters in writing	Theory of compound time
	6th and 7th time motions

GRADE VII.

Review.	Review
Three-part singing

GRADE VIII.

Bass clef	Review
Reading tenor part
Writing major and minor scales
3 or 4-part singing

Rote songs are taught in first four grades.

Individual singing with written work is introduced in each grade.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN D. DAGGETT,
Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN.

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The following is respectfully submitted:

The past year has been one of notable progress along the lines of physical well-being, and it has been especially pleasing to see a renewed interest in those matters pertaining to health and health-giving methods.

Practically every pupil has been interviewed regarding his physical condition; has had his physical defects brought to his attention, has been told how to strengthen and build up those muscles which are abnormal or ill developed, and much stress has been laid on erect carriage and on breathing exercises.

Probably in no previous period has there been such general interest among both boys and girls in athletics, and in out-of-door sports generally, as there is at present, largely due to the leadership and interest of the principals. This should be maintained under guidance, so as to avoid excesses, and physical exercises, as carried on by out-door games, and in the formation of classes indoors in inclement weather, should always have a place in the curriculum of the public schools.

In the furtherance of this plan it is pleasing to note the interest that is being taken in the proposed enlargement of the playgrounds, as well as in the already acquired land at the Boyden School.

There is also an enlightened public feeling, which, I think, is shown by the generally increased interest in matters pertaining to school sanitation and surroundings.

The chief aim of one great department of medicine, namely, sanitary science, is, in these times, directed towards the prevention of disease as never before. Prevention in the homes and prevention in the schools is sought. Where people congregate, there the chances of contracting disease are increased; germs of disease multiply, and the less resistant fall victims to the contagion, whether it be manifested as a common cold, or as a more pronounced infection, as diphtheria, for instance.

An experience of three years of school inspection has shown that there is one vital omission in the thorough carrying out of this work, and that this might be remedied through the employment of a School Nurse. There is need of such a person visiting the schools at all times, except when she might be sent to the homes of pupils to interview the parents as to the causes of unexplained absence, to note the conditions under which a child is living, to note the presence of a case of sickness in the home, perhaps to find a case of contagious disease in such a family, where its presence was not known, and where the illness was not thought to be of sufficient gravity to consult a physician. A report of such a case might be the means of safeguarding the community by preventing the spread of disease. Nor should one omit to mention the confidential advice which a nurse could give regarding the betterment of home conditions. Her services, or that of a noon matron could be made of great value at the noon hour, at the Stone and Bird Schools, in attending to the requirements of the smaller children and in preparing some hot drink which could be dispensed for a penny to aid those who are obliged to bring cold lunches. The latter was carried out formerly and met with approval.

It seems to the writer that there should be a remodelling or enlarging of the sanitary arrangements at the Stone School, and the ventilation of the same is defective.

The conditions existing at the Fisher School are bad and, in fact, the poorest in the town. One room is overcrowded, and there is no adequate ventilating system. The building is old and unsuited to present-day requirements.

I find in observing the children of the public schools that there is much more attention being given to personal hygiene than formerly.

Fifty notices have been sent to parents or guardians, mentioning physical defects, and about twenty-five more, it is estimated, are to be sent at once.

In conclusion, I would again urge the co-operation of parents toward procuring the services of a school nurse or noon matron, or both, for the larger buildings.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK H. FULLER,
School Physician.

GRADE, AGE AND SEX DISTRIBUTION. FALL TERM, 1910.

AGE.

[illegible]

Number beginners in Grade I 119.

*REPEATERS—GRADE, AGE AND SEX. FALL TERM 1910.

GRADE

[illegible]

*The children included in this table are repeating work in the grades in which they now are or have repeated work in earlier grades. Some have repeated more than one grade, but that fact is not shown. It should be noted that the boys greatly outnumber the girls, a phenomenon which is found to be true wherever a study of this kind has been made.
